Dear Mr. Williams,

The flight operations manual should be tailored for your proposed operations, and it should include general operations and decision making, flying procedures, pre-and post-flight procedures, and maintenance information. The training program should be a comprehensive course tailored for your proposed operations that includes theory and practical components, a pilot theory exam, and supervised operational familiarization training on agricultural spraying. Additionally, the training program requirements should include examination, flight test, and continued periodic training.

Dear Mr. Plessinger,

Sorry for the delayed response. We are a land management company that is trying to break into the agricultural drone spraying industry. I am working to get the documents you requested. I have our flight operations manual.

The training manual I referred to is for our particular drone from the manufacturer. My operations manual touches on all aspects of operations. Is that training manual going to be sufficient? Or are you looking for something in addition to this? Please let me know as I will do my best to get all information you request turned over to you as soon as possible.

Thank You,
Hayes Williams
